We can all say that 2020 was quite a year. We were hit with unprecedented challenges, losses, and uncertainty about the future. I, like many of you, struggled to understand and cope with a whole new way of living and being. Even the most introverted individuals have come to the realization that we are not meant to be in isolation for extended periods of time. We are meant to be in community. We are meant to touch the ones we love, experiencing smiles and laughter without a second thought. Today’s reality has forced us to face our human choices to know ourselves more deeply, love our loved ones more intensely, and prioritize quality time over busy-ness. We learned to take care of, and stand up for each other.

While Tigerlily Foundation’s focus remains on breast cancer, we have realized that the disparities that exist in breast cancer exist in multiple disease states. These disparities must be addressed. The global pandemic shined a spotlight on the numerous disparities faced by young, Black and metastatic patients. I hear their challenges and have lived many of these disparities myself. Nunny Reece pictured on the cover, was one of our ANGEL Advocates, who represented all that we do and stand for. We mourn her loss, while we charge a thousand times harder and faster towards our goal of ending disparities once and for all.

The death of George Floyd highlighted systemic racism that has contributed to multiple barriers for Black and Brown people. I see their fight, fears, passion and drive to LIVE! I also see it as OUR fight, and one that we can only do with the support of our allies. I also see the real and raw emotions that are living with this disease. It is for this reason that we took this year to push the needle forward towards health equity, and in some instances flip the table. If we keep doing what we always did, we will continue to get what we always got, and that is not acceptable when the collateral damage is Black lives. This commitment has evolved to what you’ll be seeing in our 2020 impact report. In the face of Covid and racial injustice, Tigerlily Foundation had a rapid response to meeting the needs of patients, caregivers and society.

We did unprecedented things during a year when the world was pivoting - because we had been talking about these things for years - before they became buzzwords. Within a week of the shutdown, we launched the Pure Cat Initiative, a national digital program giving patients and loved ones community. We launched our #InclusionPledge, an unprecedented global impact diversity and inclusion initiative. We partnered with stakeholders to change systems to ensure people of color had access to and representation in clinical trials. We worked to build bridges towards trust—to ensure better treatments and outcomes—putting patients first and working to eliminate barriers. We shared diverse patient voices through our MY LIFE is My Legacy Program—which reached 2.8M+ people—sharing stories of the impact of metastatic breast cancer and its toll on diverse communities.

As the new year approached, I began to focus intently on gratitude—what I had rather than what I had not—being present each sweet moment and struggle in life, as it had become poignantly clear how it can all change without notice. Unpredictability and the constant change brought me to a place of deeper appreciation for the simplest of things. I began to say to myself, if all you do today is breathe, that is enough. That is what I wish for you.

With immense gratitude and much love,

Maimah Karmo

President, Tigerlily Foundation
MISSION

Tigerlily Foundation’s mission is to educate, advocate for, empower, and support young women, before, during and after breast cancer. Every program we offer has been created to meet the needs of people, patients and caregivers; effect systemic and policy changes; educate patients and providers; build grassroots and global partnerships, and ensure better outcomes for our patients and those who love and care for them. Our programs are aligned with our key mission areas: Education, Empowerment, Advocacy and Support.

VISION

Our vision is to end disparities of age, stage and color in our lifetime.

We envision a future where breast cancer diagnosis doesn’t inspire fear, but ignites hope for a future because:

— We inspire young women diagnosed with breast cancer to transform throughout their journey.
— We empower young women to be advocates for change.
— We work to ensure that within our lifetime, breast cancer will no longer be a terminal disease, but become a chronic one that can be cured.
— We educate and empower women of all backgrounds, including those at heightened risk, those facing health disparities, and those with less access to care.
— We strive to improve the quality of life and end isolation among breast cancer survivors.
— We walk with our people who become patients every step of the way, showing them that they are not alone, but are beautiful and strong like the tiger and the lily, and that they can be transformed — during and after breast cancer.

PINK POWER ALERTS
In response to increasing demand for critical digital information at patients’ fingertips, in 2020 we reached a national network of breast cancer patients each week and sent more than 5,200 pink power alerts with information on prevention, wellness, holistic health, reminders and tips on living healthy 365 days of the year and lowering breast cancer risk.

PETALS PROGRAM
During Covid, we pivoted this in-person training for younger girls into an online program. Focusing on educating teens and younger girls about breast health, wellness & lifestyle, our goal is to ensure that young women 1) Learn the facts; 2) Know their bodies; 3) Speak up for their health; and 4) Embrace support.

HAVE THE CHAT
It is important to encourage breast health conversations early and often. Our conversation starters helped families broach important topics like lifestyle and wellness, breast self-exams and screening, genetics, hereditary breast cancer, the importance of clinical trials, the emotional toll of being diagnosed, survivorship, living with metastatic cancer, mental health and the needs of the caregiver.
Empowerment Programs

HOPE BOX
Our Hope Box was designed for newly diagnosed young women, or those currently in treatment. The Hope Box empowered patients to face the future—armed with knowledge, resources and inspiration. Filled with gifts to pamper, soothe, educate and uplift, we touched the lives of 300 patients in 2020.

“I want to thank you. I just received your package from Tigerlily. OMG! So many goodies, and I actually need everything in there. I'm starting to lose my hair, and there are two head caps I can use. I'm so happy; you have made my birthday and Christmas. God bless you for caring for us with cancer. Life is hard, but when you have people that care, it means a lot. Have a great Holiday and a Happy New Year.
Thank you so much!”

— Nancy Miranda
THEY ASKED, WE LISTENED, AND RESPONDED

Thank you, guys, so much for the Hope Box. It is hard to put into words really how it feels to receive something like this at the end of a long day. If you have been on this journey, I suppose you already know. In the beginning there is so much going on, so many appointments, emotions, new things to take on. When I received my Hope Box it came after a very long week followed by my first cycle of TCHP. It really lifted my spirits. So, thank you for everything you are doing.

With love,
— Rachel Ford-Dingfield

My beautiful package arrived, this Foundation is such a blessing to women with breast cancer, fighting hard. I am so grateful, forever grateful to you for this sweet package.
— Kristina Shultz Amerman

@tigerlily_foundation sent me a Hope Box full of love! Every single item inside spoke to me. There was something for days when I want to escape in a book, when I need to journal & document all the survivor crazy, bad hair days, days when there’s enough energy to be active and of course COVID-19 safety. They sure know how to make a girl feel special 😊

— Christine Hodgdon, Metastatic Breast Cancer Patient and Advocate, Co-Founder of GRASP

Thank you @tigerlily_foundation for the lovely Hope Box! Your constant work to support, comfort and empower women of color dealing with Cancer continues to amaze me. This box made my day, so many goodies. I can’t have too many cozy things, journals/books 😊 oh and masks!

"First, if you take no other tip follow your breath, right. Our breath is something that is with us all the time. And it really actually is one of most powerful kind of self-soothing and self-care tips."

"And, I basically had to give myself a reality check. Like, I had to basically get out of denial because at first, I kept saying that I wasn’t depressed. I wasn’t stressed. I was in denial that I was any of those things. So, once I started accepting it for what it was, it made me change my whole mental state because I started asking myself “Do I want to live, or do I want to die?” And my answer is “I WANT TO LIVE!”

"My alone time with God, that is my one thing that I try to do every day. Is just too have, get in his word, and just be with him. And then for my patients, what I recommend for them self-care wise, there are two things that I recommend. SLEEP, I am a sleep pusher. Sleep is so important. And the second thing is asking for help.

"Knowing who you are and what your goals are for therapy. Because not only is the therapist going to interview you, you have to interview them as well to find out what that fits going to be and that whole bottom line of therapy is being able to have that human connection. That’s the heart of therapy. Being able to feel comfortable."

NEW NORMAL JOURNAL

The New Normal Journal provides young women with tools to navigate life during and after breast cancer. This inspiring planning guide, developed by breast cancer survivors, helps patients to regain a sense of focus as they design their lives during and after breast cancer. By the time journal entries are complete, it is our hope that the thriver feels beautiful, strong and transformed.

“Hello! I am interested in the journal! I am not a big writer anymore. It helps me remember things from chemo fog and to make a daily list ...most important to remember to take time out in my busy day for myself! I am 34 from Pittsburgh, PA. Mom of two with metastatic breast cancer that has spread to my bones. I just finished 16 rounds of AC-T chemotherapy and will be getting a double mastectomy in early March! It is really nice that you make things like this available!”

— Samantha Wolff

“The New Normal Journal has been very helpful for me throughout my journey. I love the weekly tips and checklists. I have been able to use them as a resource when speaking to my healthcare providers and insurance. I have re-read the journal a few times and it has so much valuable information for breast cancer survivors navigating their diagnosis and survivorship.”

Advocacy Programs

MBC ANGEL ADVOCACY PROGRAM

MBC ANGELs education and advocacy program utilizes a three-pronged approach to end breast cancer disparities by targeting three main population groups: young women, young women of color who are current breast cancer survivors and metastatic breast cancer patients. Our focus is to engage and empower passionate members of the community—those interested in breast cancer, health care providers and policymakers in the 20 cities with the greatest breast cancer disparities.

The 3-part program consists of:

- MBC ANGELs, Empower! Recruitment and Training
- MBC ANGELs, Educate! Community Outreach and Provider Education
- MBC ANGELs, Mobilize! Advocacy and Social Media Activation
In January 2020, we assembled a cohort of 20 Black women representing cities in which Black women have the highest mortality rates. They embarked on a year long intensive and immersive program that addressed systemic barriers, social determinants of health, social competencies and mistrust. The ANGELs participated in more than 2,000 hours of education, engagement and collaborative activities designed to support them in engaging with their communities—which makes an impact where they live and work.

IMPACT!

This program offered education, resources and access to scientific conferences. It amplified their voices, enhanced representation on panels about diversity in clinical trials, worked to build bridges between healthcare and scientific communities, and gave our ANGELS a safe community of sisters to support them along their journey.

MBC ANGEL Advocates
By December 2020, we recruited 100+ ANGEL Advocates—new angel advocates who will be trained in 2021 to push forward our continued advocacy work to end disparities in age, stage and color. ANGELS participate on panels, campaigns, events, and advisory boards; and collaborate on programmatic initiatives such as:

- Pull Up A Seat — Bi-directional conversations with allies including health care providers, researchers, scientists, and other stakeholders in industry and advocacy roles.

- Disparities Alliance — A collaborative of patients, experts, caregivers, community leaders and partners, the vision of the Disparities Alliance is to establish priorities and implement specific, measurable and tangible interventions to end disparities for Black women in our lifetime. The goal is to build a global collaborative addressing disparities to lower the mortality rate for Black women.

- My Life Is My Legacy Campaign — Through deeply personal stories, we showcased faces of Metastatic Breast Cancer (MBC) patients and inspired a global community to understand how MBC touches, patients, friends, parents, spouses, children, providers, researchers and all of us.
ASCO

Tigerlily hosted a #ListenUpMBC Confab on Young Women's Metastatic Breast Cancer (MBC) disparities during the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO) 2020 Annual Meeting. We amplified this year's theme "Unite & Conquer: Accelerating Progress Together“ by virtually mobilizing young women of color who were usually not "at the table“ alongside scientists, oncologists, and industry leaders to end MBC disparities in our lifetime. We held a Twitter 101 lunch and learn session which included interactive discussions, a town hall meeting and Twitter chat. We also hosted a virtual happy hour with engaging breakout sessions, prizes, and swag to close out our first #ListenUpMBC Confab session.

In 2020, 40 key industry, advocacy leaders and patient advocates and 30 pharmaceutical and advocacy organizations joined the alliance.

DIVERSITY & ADVOCACY IN ACTION

This powerful “for us and by us” activation brought patients once again to the table as equal partners with the scientific and healthcare community. We trained, amplified, empowered and most of all LISTENED. This initiative was 100% focused on breast cancer disparities and delivered key learnings for patients and partners.
For the first time in the history of SABCS, Tigerlily Foundation—a Black-led, first-generation immigrant woman and patient-led organization—opened the San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium (SABCS). We set the stage for a new day, raising the bar higher in health equity, as our President took to the virtual stage as the first Black patient leader to participate in SABCS in this capacity. Tigerlily co-hosted this plenary session in collaboration with the American Association for Cancer Research (AACR) titled “Setting the Stage for Health Equity, Collaboration and Partnership.” The event fostered dialogue to end barriers at every level of healthcare for people of color. This historic panel discussion was moderated by co-hosts Maimah Karmo and Dr. Chuck Perou (The May Goldman Shaw Distinguished Professor of Molecular Oncology, Professor of Genetics and Pathology & Laboratory Medicine at the University of North Carolina (UNC) Chapel Hill School of Medicine, Co-Director of the Computational Medicine Program at UNC). Participants included some of the most globally-renowned scientists of color: Dr. Lisa Newman (surgical breast oncologist and Chief of the Section of Breast Surgery at New York-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell Medical Center and Weill Cornell Medicine); Dr. Funmi Olopade (expert in cancer risk assessment and breast cancer treatment, Associate Dean for Global Health and Walter L. Palmer Distinguished Service Professor in Medicine and Human Genetics at the University of Chicago, and Director of University of Chicago’s Cancer Risk Clinic); and Dr. Maria Elena Martinez (co-lead of the Moores Cancer Center’s Reducing Cancer Disparities, Professor in the Herbert Wertheim School of Public Health and Human Longevity Science, Sam M. Walton Endowed Chair for Cancer Research, and among the 28 distinguished individuals to help inform the scientific direction of the National Cancer Institute). Shawn Johnson (medical student at Harvard Medical School) provided a historical perspective of racism, redlining, segregation, and institutional policies and how they have affected our current health care practices.
#Inclusion Pledge

OVERVIEW
In 2020, Tigerlily launched the #InclusionPledge, which provides a transparent and tangible framework across stakeholder sectors to identify and track equity actions. The goal is accountability — to hold anyone accountable, who through action or inaction, impacts the lives of women of color — to make specific and measurable change to improve outcomes for Black and Brown women.

MISSION
To advocate and activate the inclusion of women of color across initiatives impacting their breast and overall health.

WHY THE #INCLUSIONPLEDGE IS IMPERATIVE
We believe that literacy, financial barriers, access, social, systemic and hereditary backgrounds should not be determinants of life and health equity within the healthcare, cancer research and cancer care ecosystem. In order to continue to accelerate and make an impact as it relates to disparities and Black women, the #InclusionPledge is imperative.

#KnowMoreDisparities & #PullUpASeat

The #KnowMoreDisparities conversations are facilitated for and by Black women to create a safe space for honest conversations with Black patients, physicians, researchers, scientists, and other stakeholders to discuss their experiences of health inequality, implicit racial bias and lessons learned. Together, we said, "know more about disparities" so as a collective we said, "NO MORE DISPARITIES."

Two weeks after hosting #KnowMoreDisparities, we hosted our #PullUpASeat conversation. Co-hosted by Black patient experts and a Black doctor, it amplified the voices of Black women through candid conversations led by a Black keynote physician/medical clinician on racism in clinical trials and practices. This highlighted inequities facing women of color throughout their healthcare journey, working with patients and allies to co-create solutions.

In 2020, 337 scientists, doctors, clinicians and patient advocates nationally and globally joined our conversations.

#LoveYourBones Campaign

What the ‘F’ are Bones? Know your F’s: Facts, Food, Fitness and Focus.

The #LoveYourBones Campaign was designed to educate and empower young women to understand the facts of bone health as it relates to breast cancer. It highlighted the foods that promote healthy bones, fitness exercises that facilitate good bone health and meditations that can help focus young women on intentional living. This program also focused on the education of metastatic bone disease, providing patients with the tools and resources needed for good bone health.

The #LoveYourBones campaign launched in October 2020, with a companion media campaign, reaching more than 6M people.
The Soul Peace Inner Reality Transformed (SPIRIT) Program is focused on transformative spiritual resources—during and after breast cancer. We provide young breast cancer patients with a foundation of faith, community and deep gratitude that surpasses their physical experience. At its core, the SPIRIT program is centered on LOVE. We provide blogs, meditations, an annual retreat and a monthly prayer circle.
PURE CAT INITIATIVE

In March of 2020, Tigerlily Foundation launched the Pure Cat Initiative — in honor of Catherine Odderstol — a sassy yogi, who danced through life, spread light and joy to everyone she met, and left us with the gift of her eternal gypsy soul. Cat was dedicated to helping others have a mind, body, spirit approach to health and wellness. Cat transitioned as the world went into shutdown.

During quarantine when it was not safe for anyone to leave their homes, we began to offer online classes to our community in the comfort of their homes. They felt less alone and began to feel like a family through our weekly courses. This program still continues to grow to reach audiences in the U.S. and globally.

Since the COVID-19 pandemic first hit at the end of March the Pure Cat Initiative and our online events have reached over 4.5 million people all over the world.

Thank you to our generous supporters!

“Most people would say the coronavirus quarantine has been difficult. But I’m not going to lie—it’s been a lifesaver for me. You see, my life before the lockdown was pretty much a stay-at-home one anyway, thanks to my stage four breast cancer diagnosis. But with the quarantine, the whole world joined me indoors, and companies devoted their creative energy toward things we could do from home, things I could participate in as fully as anyone else. I’ve been especially thankful for the Pure Cat initiative with Tigerlily Foundation. Thanks to them, I’ve been able to do yoga, Pilates, and other classes from home. I’ve gotten more exercise and had more life in my days than I have in years. I don’t feel so alone. I don’t feel so different. You may have thought staying at home was saving the lives of coronavirus patients, but it’s also been saving mine.”

FUNDS FOR FAMILIES

COVID-19 RELIEF FUND
Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, many breast cancer patients and families were living with increased financial challenges. Tigerlily Foundation offered financial grants to breast cancer patients through our Funds for Families COVID-19 Relief Program. The program provided need-based financial assistance to families affected by the pandemic.

“I wanted to reach out to say ‘thank you’ so much for the grant I received. I am deeply touched by the generosity of the Tigerlily Foundation. Cancer has been one of the most difficult experiences I have gone through and this grant will help to ease some of the financial burden this diagnosis has brought. Thank you so much!”

— Katie

Thank you for approving me for funding from your wonderful organization. Your financial support will help in ways you couldn’t imagine. I thank you and I am humbled by your gift.

— Christina

“Thank you all so much. I am so appreciative of this financial blessing from Tigerlily Foundation. This brings about some relief to the medical bills I have stacked before me. I’ve just been approved for Long Term Disability which is only 60% of my salary so this grant comes in handy. Again, thank you all for granting the funds. I will be taking part in other programs and events that I see you offer on your website. I’d love to volunteer and help out where and when I can to support Tigerlily. I continue browsing your website for opportunities to serve.”

In 2020, we launched Twitter chats using the hashtag #TLCtransform. Since May 2020, we have hosted 16 Twitter chats, with more than 43M impressions. The Twitter chats were created to provide education about breast cancer, metastatic breast cancer, clinical trials, health equity and disparities for Black women and more. Thousands of patient advocates, healthcare providers, researchers and scientists attended our Twitter chats nationally and globally. We also trained patients of color on how to get on and use Twitter—a platform used most often by healthcare providers, researchers, scientists and policymakers—in order to amplify their voices and increase representation.
Tigerlily Foundation is one of the premier thought leaders, working with communities of color and diverse stakeholders in the industry—to advise, educate, co-create and transform the development of true patient-centricity and diversity in clinical trials. We work with the leading global pharmaceutical companies, patients of color, college students, healthcare providers, researchers, scientists, Clinical Research Organizations (CROs), trial sites other entities across the nation to provide subject matter advice and expertise. In addition, we are educating, informing systemic change, and collaborating with organizations to transform the clinical trial process to be fully inclusive and to eliminate barriers for diverse patients. In 2020, we participated in nearly 3,500 hours of advisory, education, panel discussions and other activities, collaborating with some of the world’s leading stakeholders on truly engaging and building solutions for and by communities of color.

TIGERLILY PARTNERS WITH ITS ANGEL ADVOCATES TO HOST LISTENING SUMMITS

Paint the City Pink provided education, resources, healthcare provider expertise, and culturally competent information to encourage sisterhood and advocacy. In a space where women had safe conversations led by experts, Paint the City Pink allowed these women to share stories and experience a “paint and sip” session.
Tigerlily Foundation partnered with Tressa Smallwood of MegaMind Media for this movie premier of films produced for Black Entertainment Television (BET) Her. On October 14th, the first Pull Up & Park DC was held to educate, empower and amplify black women’s stories, highlighting breast health. The event was held in the District of Columbia, one of the cities with the highest mortality rates for Black women. Guests were shown a series of mini-movies produced with heart, grace and humanity, while highlighting the disproportionate challenges Black women face in the breast and mental health spaces.

We provided 400 guests with a bag of 50 masks, hand sanitizer, and educational materials. Based on Tigerlily Foundation’s commitment to “For Us/By Us” — programming and partnerships targeted to reach Black women regarding their health — the production, direction, casting, acting, and television partners were all Black women. Tigerlily also distributed Hope Boxes to patients and educated attendees on the importance of continuing screening, asking the right questions at doctor visits, understanding genetics, engaging in clinical trials and self-advocacy.

Delivering culturally competent interventions in communities facing the highest disparities, building trust, and providing education and resources.
MAKING SPIRITS BRIGHT
In partnership with We Will Survive Cancer, Tigerlily Foundation provided Christmas presents to 35 individuals touched by breast cancer. This annual shopping event is a collaboration with Macy’s Department Store. We were proud to once again partner with volunteers in the DC metropolitan area to shop, wrap, and distribute gifts to families affected by cancer.

KELLY’S BOOTCAMP & INERGY BREAST CANCER WARRIOR WORKOUT
This partnership cultivated community, activity and connection. We provided Hope Boxes to breast cancer survivors and patients. The event also raised funds for Tigerlily initiatives.

Living Beyond Breast Cancer (LBBC) Conference: KNOWLEDGE IS POWER
Tigerlily partnered with LBBC to support the Knowledge is Power: Understanding Black Breast Cancer webinar series on health disparities in the Black community. Tigerlily serves as a consultant to a myriad of other advocacy organizations, providing them with advice and expert support in their quest to serve their patients.
Tigerlily Foundation was featured in many press conferences and digital magazines. More than 100M people learned about Tigerlily Foundation through global channels like Glamour, The Atlantic, Forbes, Essence and other local and national news channels like Fox 5, NBC Washington, WDVM and Good Morning America. Many of our pharmaceutical partners also wrote about Maimah Karmo/Tigerlily Foundation as a thought leader in both the breast cancer and health equity space. Thank you to all our supporters!

SPONSORS AND PARTNERS
We are extremely thankful to our partners for their support – enabling us to give patients much needed programming and education. We worked side-by-side with them to curate and provide patient panels; participate in health equity town halls; offer advisory services and develop programs that educate and impact patients. The focus was on eliminating health disparities and developing programs to meet patients where they were during the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond. Our core focus is to provide impactful interventions to patients and their loved ones and to create systemic change, ensuring a better quality of life and to ensure accountability to health equity for all.
